CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY LAW LIBRARY

Our Mission:

The primary mission of the Klutznick Law Library / McGrath North Mullin & Kratz Legal Research Center is to provide Creighton law students and faculty members with meaningful access to relevant legal and law-related information. Law Library resources and services support the curricular, research, and service activities of Creighton University School of Law. Secondarily, the Law Library collection supports the legal information needs of the university community, the local judiciary and practicing bar, and the general public of the Omaha metropolitan area. Finally, the library strives to achieve its mission in a safe, secure, working environment for all of its patrons.

Our Vision:

Our Law Library strives to provide exceptional legal resources and expertise to support the educational, scholarly, and collaborative experience of all library users.

In support of our mission and vision, Creighton’s Law Library staff pledges to:

- Maintain a positive, supportive environment, sensitive to a diverse clientele, in which all library users can succeed.
- Acquire and maintain an accessible collection of quality legal resources in all suitable formats.
- Facilitate knowledge creation in the law school community.
- Support and motivate our library users by connecting them with the best available information sources.
- Set a high standard of excellence in reliability, responsiveness, and patron service.
- Be a contributing partner in teaching, research, resource sharing, and collaboration.
- Cooperate collegially with other campus, local, and regional libraries and related entities.
- Provide a welcoming and functional library facility conducive to study and research.
- Encourage and support our ongoing professional development.
